COMMUNITY SERVICE

INTRODUCTION

Community service is work done by a person or group of people that benefits others. It is often done near the area where you live, so your own community reaps the benefits of your work. You do not get paid to perform community service, though sometimes food and small gifts, like a t-shirt, are given to volunteers.

Community service can help any group of people in need: children, senior citizens, people with disabilities, English language learners, and more. It can also help animals, such as those at a shelter, and it can be used to improve places, such as a local park, historic building, or scenic area as well. Community service is often organized through a local group, such as a place of worship, school, or non-profit organization. You can also start your own community service projects.

Some students are required to complete community service as part of a class requirement in order to graduate high school or become a member of certain organizations, such as the National Honor Society. Adults can also participate in community service as a way to help others or if they are ordered to do so by a judge.

What Are Examples of Community Service?

There are hundreds of ways to participate in community service, depending on your skills and interests. Some common community service examples include:

Working with schoolchildren: Tutoring children after school, collecting school supplies to donate, planting a school garden.

Working with senior citizens: Visiting residents of a retirement center, delivering meals to senior citizens, driving them to appointments.

Improving the environment: Holding a recycling contest, planting trees, creating a new trail at a nature center.

Helping low-income people: Passing out food at a soup kitchen, collecting used clothes to be donated, making first aid kits for homeless shelters.

SUGGESTIVE FOR COMMUNITY SERVICE

The following the recommended list of areas of projects for BA, B.Com, B.Sc etc. programmes. The lists are not exhaustive and open for additions, deletions and modifications. Colleges are expected to focus on specific local issues for this kind of projects The students are expected to carry out these projects with involvement, commitment, responsibility and accountability. The mentors of a group of students shall take the responsibility of motivating, facilitating, and guiding the students. They have to interact with local leadership and people and appraise the objectives and benefits of this kind of projects. The project reports shall be placed in the college website for reference. Systematic, factual, methodical and honest reporting shall be ensured.

BENEFITS OF COMMUNITY SERVICES

There are many benefits of participating in community service, and some of the most important ones are listed below.

Have the opportunity to help others: This is often the most important benefit of community service. Participating in it gives you the opportunity to know that you are improving someone's life and making your community better, and you get to see the direct impact of your work.

Gain hands-on experience: You can learn a lot of skills while performing community service such as construction, painting, customer service, and medical skills. You can also include your community service work on your resume.

A Community Service

Learn about different careers:
Sometimes you can focus your community service in a field you may want to work in down the road. Some examples of this include volunteering at an animal shelter if you are thinking about becoming a veterinarian, working at a hospital if you want to be a doctor, or volunteering in a museum if you like history. The experience gained from community service can help you get an internship or job in the future, and it also gives you the opportunity to see how much you would really enjoy a particular career.

Personal growth: Doing community service has personal benefits as well. It often makes participants more organized, responsible, and compassionate, which are all good qualities to have, as well as qualities that both colleges and employers like to see in applicants.

Gain new friends: A final benefit is that you can meet a lot of great people while doing community service. Community service is often done in groups, so it's easy to make friends with the people you are working with. You may also become friends with the people you are helping, especially if you volunteer at the same place regularly.

CONCLUSION

From this project I have acquired and enhanced many of my skills and experiences. These kids have thought me how to smile in my kind of situation we are in and face it, how to mingle with others, always being positive, hardworking and most important of all helping each other and keeping each other happy. Children were such a cute, lovely and adorable. These kids and staff members made us feel like as if we are their own relation. My communication skill has increased and made new friends.

This internship was a useful experience. I gained new knowledge, skills and met many new people. I achieved several of my learning goals; there is still a lot to discover and to improve. The internship was also good to find out what my strength and weakness are. This helped me to define what skills and knowledge I have to improve in coming time. I would also be better if I can present and express myself more confidently. At the last this internship has given me new insights and motivation.

I didn't do this because I had it for internship but I did it as my responsibility towards my community. My dream is to start a ashram for old age people and children and make their life more comfortable and happy. I will do it.
